AIMS & SCOPE

Over the past decade, the Internet of Things (IoT) has become one of the most influential technologies in the fields of wireless communications and mobile computing. Originated from RFID and wireless sensor networks (WSNs), the paradigm of IoT has been transforming every aspect of human life including healthcare, energy, transportation, and manufacturing. Recent predictions show that there will be more than 20 billion IoT devices by 2020. Since its very beginning, wireless communication has been focused on serving human-to-human interaction or human accessing information. Due to IoT, the scope of wireless communication becomes ubiquitous communication among all people and all devices, and the major challenge now becomes how to realize large-scale device-to-device (D2D) communication in an intelligent and energy efficient fashion. On the other hand, mobile computing is expected to be more pervasive and resource constrained than any time before. To facilitate IoT, there are tremendous innovation opportunities in different disciplines and perspectives. This session is seeking high-quality research articles as well as reviews about state-of-the-art technologies in wireless communications and mobile computing that contribute to the formation and advancement of IoT. Since power and cost constraints are major factors of IoT development, they will be the main focus of this special issue.

Full length original and unpublished research papers based on theoretical or experimental contributions related to the below mentioned tracks are invited for submission in this special session:

Tracks: (Sub-Themes)

1. Power-line communication for smart grid and home area networks
2. Body area networks with Bluetooth and other low power communication techniques
3. Emerging techniques in ZigBee and low power Wifi
4. Energy efficient networks in IoT systems
5. Energy-constrained wireless sensing techniques
6. Compressed sensing for signal with sparse structure in IoT applications
7. 5G technologies and their application in IoT
8. Biosignal processing with mobile computing
9. Cyber-physical system architecture
10. Energy efficiency in wireless sensor networks
11. Cross layer design in WSNs
12. Machine learning algorithm for adaptive computing in IoT
13. Security and privacy innovation for IoT applications

Publication Policies:

1. All registered and presented papers/review articles shall be submitted to SPRINGER for their possible publication in a Conference Proceedings format (online). However the right to accept and subsequent publication of each will be with Springer that will be decided on the basis of the quality novelty of work and the originality of the text, the manuscript will represent.
2. In case, any registered paper/article is rejected by the Springer for its publication with their conference proceeding due to any reason (mentioned at point number-01), the sole responsibility shall lies with authors of that article. As we clearly stated on the first and home pages, that Springer will conduct quality checks on the accepted papers and only papers that pass these checks will be published. Therefore authors are expected to avoid to use similarity text (copy and paste from other published works), should adhere to original work maintaining technical and result description qualities. Also authors will not allow to make changes in the choice of publication category (I or II) once registered and pay the fee as per category wise.
3. Paper/article length is limited upto 12 pages only. Extra pages are to be avoided, if necessary, author can place a request in advance with payment of separate fee (page-wise) as mentioned in the registration link.
4. Springer proceedings shall available online only; hard-copy may be requested directly with the SPRINGER on payment as per their rates, once available after online publication.
